Artist Statement

I am the fourth generation of my family born and raised on a cattle operation in Kansas. I love my family and history, inevitably, I could not help but love ranching.

My work has a focus on pattern and texture with agricultural subjects. I aim to give agriculture a place in a modern and contemporary aesthetic.

Finding a way to expose an increasingly urban world to the importance of the agriculture industry is important, and I hope my work encourages reflection on a part of our collective history and the people who continue to honor those traditions.

BIOGRAPHY

Julie Sneed (1987, Saint Benedict, KS) is a contemporary artist based in Kansas. She was born and raised on a cattle ranch in Kansas. Sneed received her B.S. from the A.Q. Miller School of Journalism at Kansas State University with a concentration in advertising and secondary concentrations in geography and studio art. She worked in advertising and journalism for several years before pursuing art full-time in 2015. Her work has been featured in Saatchi Art magazine, and was selected by Saatchi Art as “Best of 2017” by Saatchi Art’s chief curator, Rebecca Wilson. After years in Tulsa, OK, she now lives in Kansas with her husband Andrew, an architectural engineer, and daughter Claire. Her work has been included in exhibitions and private collections worldwide.
